Fire Chief Al Nulty Has A Talk With The Spectator

FIRE CHIEF "AL" NULTY has just left after a talk which revealed he was pretty well upset regarding the impression that he has official fault to find with the basement conditions of every apartment house in Narberth. That's far from the actual facts, says Al, and he deplores the misunderstanding that caused such an inaccurate opinion.

Well, we all have known Al for these many years and if he were not already a conservative fellow by nature, the kind of important job he has had so long in Merion would have taught him the need of prudent procedure, for he has the kind of boss over there who has too much at stake to trifle with those who ball themselves up in the work they have to do.

According to Al, there are more than one of our apartment houses which need drastic improvements if the fire hazards are to be removed. On the other hand, there are several where every possible precaution has been adopted by the owners and which are entitled to a clean bill of safety from the Fire Chief. Notably in this group are the Beechwood Apartments, erected some years ago by Joe O'Connor, who, at the time, earned the special approval of the Burgess by adopting the kind of concrete construction which went far beyond the requirements of the local building code and which cost the far-seeing Joe a few more thousand dollars than he would have had to spend if he had merely complied with the literal law.

Al Nulty points out that he knew, as did everybody else around Elm Hall, exactly what Joe O'Connor had done and he states that the borough authorities, in his belief, could well adopt the Beechwood's protective features as the pattern which should be observed in the erection of local apartment buildings in the future.

The thing that Al wants cleared up is that there are in Narberth several apartment houses which can be approved as free from undue fire peril. There are others which have conditions which should be corrected. The report which will be made to Council (perhaps it has already been filed) is specific in its detail and Al wants to be judged on what he says in this document, not on the basis of an informal talk which, even with the best intent, is often misconstrued, perhaps because of the extra stress which is apt to be placed by all of us on that which is wrong, with too little reference to that which is right.

THE TELEPHONE has also been ringing with another kind of protest and this time it was because last week's piece about local sports celebrities had failed to include proper appreciation of George A. Torchiana, alias "Jiggs," Narberth's basket-ball magnate of large achievement. As everybody knows, "Jiggs" (he has carried that tag-line since he was a tot in a perambulator) holds forth in the deluxe gas station at the borough's coldest corner and if one is to judge from the frequent toe-to-toe conversations which he has with Bert Bell, it could be that he has lots to do with the fortunes of professional football in the country.

It is, however, as sponsor for the basket-ball teams which have so ably represented Narberth during the last five years that George (let's call him that, even if he doesn't like England) has served us best and it is a pity that the pennant did not fall his way last week. Nevertheless, his team tied for first place in the regular league games and it should also be noted that Narberth beat the Veterans' (the pennant winners) 3 out of 4 games during the season. Ordinarily, the season's score would tell the tale, as it does in other games, but basket-ball hereabouts is not a big money game and these unusual play-offs are probably intended to gather in a few more shekels. As it is, George is lamenting a deficit and if it really amounts to anything something should be done about it. The suggestion meantime is that our basket-ball should be better advertised next season, as George has lined up a group of unusually smart players and more people will come to the games if an effective kind of publicity goes after them.

Another thing about George is the fact that he has a wonderful mother and a grand wife. The family has lived here since 1919 and the Alabama-born Mrs. Torchiana is bound to go through Heaven's doors without the slightest pause, for she has well earned that kind of celestial distinction. In 1940, George married Christine McCabe, a Bryn Mawr girl who certainly added to this borough's repute as a haven for pretty women. Many say she looks like Rosalind Russell, and while the distaff side of this reporter's household is maritally related to the attractive movie star, our vote for the No. 1 girl still goes to Christine. See what you say after you check up on the informal picture in this issue, snitched without George or Christine knowing anything about it The one child to arrive so far is Joan and she also is a pretty piece, as of course should be expected.

Road Widening To Cost Boro $600

Narberth Has $285 Approved For Drain Work

Seaboard Construction Co. Has No Contract for Boro's Share of Job

A superintendent for the Seaboard Construction Co. said this week that Narberth will have to spend more than $600 for its share in the new cut-off eliminating the dangerous curve on E. Wynnewood Rd.

This statement came only two weeks after the Narberth Highway Committee told Borough Council its share of the work would not cost more than the $285 previously approved for the job.

New Concrete Box

Engineers for the construction company have decided to install a concrete connection box on the Narberth side of the new road. A small section of elliptical pipe will connect a 36-inch storm drain, which runs along the new section of the road, with the connection box.

Narberth will have to pay for a section of3 6-inch pipe running from the box to Indian Creek at Elmwood Ave.

It was originally planned to run the Narberth section of 36-inch pipe directly to the storm drains, but test digging revealed the presence of a sanitary sewer and power lines beneath the old road. The smaller connecting pipe will eliminate disturbing these lines.

Cost $11 a Foot

Narberth's section of the storm drain will run approximately 50 feet. The Seaboard company has contracted to do the State's drainpipe work at $11 a foot, plus $3.90 for each yard of excavation.

The Borough has not yet negotiated a contract with the construction company, but if another engineering company is given the contract, Narberth will be faced with even higher costs because of the expenses entailed in bringing equipment to the job.

Boro Relief Aides Meet in Ardmore

Narberth Ass'n, Church Group to Co-operate

Mrs. Eberhardt Mueller retiring director of the Narberth Volunteer Relief Association, and her successor, Mrs. Theodore Fischer, met with Robert M. Myers, executive secretary of the Federation of Churches, last Friday at the federation headquarters, 18 Simpson rd., Ardmore.

The Narberth Volunteer Relief Association gives financial assistance to families in Narberth, while the Federation offers family case work service throughout Haverford, a part of Radnor, and most of Lower Merion. Narberth is included in the area covered by the Family Service Agency.

Those present at the conference agreed that there had been no overlapping of service by the two agencies and that there were instances where families applying to the Relief Association might be referred to the Family Service Agency for help with other needs.

Mrs. Fischer will meet with the Case Work Committee of the Family Service Agency in Ardmore this Friday to discuss policies of the Agency in regard to giving financial assistance.

PENN VALLEY MAN ASKS CUSTODY OF 2 CHILDREN

A suit to obtain the custody of his young son and daughter has been filed in Montgomery County Court by a Penn Valley man, J. Richard Shryock, of 732 Braeburn Lane, Philadelphia radio shop owner.

Shryock told the Court this week that his wife, the former Elizabeth Folwell, is teaching the children the doctrines of Theosophy, to which he objects on the grounds that it is "a very different creed from Christianity."

Mrs. Shryock, who is now living with her sister, Mrs. Herbert Adam, on Wister Lane, Wynnewood, has already filed suit against her husband for divorce, charging indignities. She has also asked the Court for custody of the two children, Joan, 10, and Richard, 6.

ONLY THREE ACCIDENTS

Business Council O. K.'s Street Widening Plans

Plans to Be Referred to Residents, Merchants on N. Narberth Avenue

Plans for widening North Narberth Ave. were approved by the Narberth Business Council Monday night.

The plans were drawn up under the supervision of Borough Council and the chairman of its highway committee, W. S. Thompson.

Survey to Be Made

The Business Council also decided to refer the plans and cost of carrying out the work to a committee composed of owners and business tenants on North Narberth Ave. Robert Hobson agreed to make the survey among residents and tenants for the Business Council.

At the time the plans were presented to Narberth Business Council, Thompson asked that all suggestions for the widening be sent to Borough Council so that it would have some idea of residents' feeling in the matter.

Such action is necessary as Borough Council has not sufficient funds to do the job itself and the owners and residents will have to pay for most of the cost.

Seek Bus Change

Roy Angelaccio was appointed chairman of a special committee to investigate the possibility of having local bus companies change their schedules so that the Montgomery Ave. business section would be included.

Miss Fanny Loos, secretary of the Narberth Community Library Board, assured the Narberth Business Council that it would be glad to house any historical data collected by the organization.

Four new members were admitted to the Council. They are Delmac Company, Roy and Mario, hairdressing; Narberth Sunoco Service Station and Mobilgas Station, all of the Montgomery Ave. business district.

Mrs. Helene Watwood was named chairman of the Flag Committee, which will take care of reconditioning and buying flags.

The regular monthly meeting, which was held Monday night, was conducted by Frank Tinker, president, and was held at Arcadio Chios.

Thieves Are $150 Richer After Working in Bala

Thieves stole $150 Saturday morning from the Thomas-Coult, Inc., Dodge-Plymouth agency at City Line and Maple Aves., Bala. The money was taken from a desk drawer in the business office.

Lower Merion Detective Sergeant James P. Smyth said the burglars gained entrance to the building by breaking a pane of glass in a rear door. The crime was discovered by an employe when he reported for work that morning.

Town Talk

By DOROTHY M. OGDEN

Sorry that Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kaufman, of 507 Homewood Ave., Narberth, will be out of town for six months . . . They have gone to Dayton, Ohio, where Mr. Kaufman will be taking an advanced training course with the National Cash Register Company.

The Narberth Juniors (of the Women's Community Club) will be missing Mrs. Kaufman, who did a fine job of publicity for them.

Incidentally, the Kaufmans had two days to get to Dayton but they managed it somehow, which seems like awfully short notice.

APT. FIRE DOORS MUST BE KEPT CLOSED, HE WARNS

A State fire inspector made a thorough examination of three large Narberth apartment houses this week at the request of Borough Fire Marshal Al Nulty.

Nulty had charged last week that all of the Borough's large apartment dwellings are fire hazards to a greater or lesser degree.

Three Recommendations

The inspector, John R. Standiford, of the State Bureau of Inspection of the Department of Labor and Industry, made the following recommendations in a report to Fire Marshal Nulty:

1. That several fire doors in each of the three apartments needed self-closing mechanisms.

He pointed out that most fire deaths are due to smoke and heat, rather than burns, and that smoke and heat are intensified if fire doors are not kept closed.

2. That apartment owners build a fire resistant layer of cement plaster on rock or metal lath between the basement and the first floor.

Such a layer, only one inch thick, Standiforth said in his report, would be "one-hour fire resistant," and would give firemen a chance to fight a fire before it spread beyond control.

Construction of the ceiling should pay for itself in several years in reduced fire insurance rates, Standiford said.

3. That "apartment owners" undertake a thorough educational campaign" to acquaint tenants with proper fire-fighting measures and precautions.

As an example, he pointed out that during hot weather too many fire doors are left open and create drafts that aggravate what might otherwise be small fires.

"In general," Standiford concluded, "there is in the apartments I inspected no unnecessary fire hazards to loss of life as long as fire doors are kept closed.

"The three buildings I inspected have fire walls and two means of egress from each section.

"However, the buildings I inspected were not built as fire-resisting, but they are as good as any of that period. Their basements are no worse than some I've seen in other parts of the State."

Nulty last week asked Borough Council to require either a fireproof basement ceiling or sprinkling system on the three Borough apartment houses now without either.

He also asked that all apartment house owners and residents clean up their basements, which, he pointed out, constitute a serious fire hazard.

Home Building Is Delayed

Disagreement between Lower Merion Township and Federal housing authorities is delaying construction of more than 35 houses in Penn Valley, according to a statement issued by the office of John H. McClatchy, builder.

"The U. S. Government won't allow builders to erect homes with more than 1500 square feet, and zoning regulations of Lower Merion won't allow houses under 1700 square feet to be built in an R-1 area, where our 15 acres in Penn Valley, on the former Magee brothers estate, is located, "the spokesman explained.

"We had hoped to erect 37 single houses on half-acre lots and our sub-division plans haveb een granted by the Board of Commissioners; but there is no point in our even applying for building permits until housing regulations are modified by either the Federal Government or by Lower Merion Township."

Roads and sewers are being put in on the land, which is bounded by Braeburn, Broadacres and Old Guiph Rds., and Bryn Mawr Ave.

The Main Line Branch No. 1 has collected over 150,000 and nearly $80,000 must still be collected before the drive can be considered a success.

"If every worker will concentrate on finishing up this week, the Main Line Branch should report for more than 100 per cent of its quota at the final report luncheon," Branch officials said this week.

Haverford Court Granted License By Liquor Board

Residents Lose Fight to Prevent Cocktail Lounge in Hotel

The Haverford Civic Association has lost its fight to prevent the issuance of a liquor license to the Haverford Court Hotel, Montgomery Ave. and Grays Lane, Haverford.

The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board issued the license last Thursday, 17 days after Haverford residents protested against the liquor application at a hearing held in Philadelphia.

Hotel Fully Qualified

A. W. Caley, Director of Licensing, said, "The Board, upon receipt of the report submitted by the Hearing Examiner (in Philadelphia) concerning the testimony offered at the hearing, found that the applicant was fully qualified to receive a license and that the establishment was in full operation as a bona fide hotel complying with all the requirements prescribed by law for a hotel liquor license of the type which is excluded from the quota restrictions.

"Since the law gives the Board no discretion in such cases when all statutory requirements are complied with, the Board could follow no other course than to grant the license. Accordingly, the application has been approved by the Board this date (March 20) and the license issued."

This week, Graeme Lorimer, president of the Haverford Civic Association, said the decision was not unexpected.

Didn't Hope to Win

"We didn't hope to win our fight to prevent the hotel from getting the license because there was not one legal reason why the license should not have been granted," Lorimer said.

"Hotels are not bound by quota restrictions on the number of public bars in any one neighborhood, and there are no schools, churches, or playgrounds within 300 feet of the hotel grounds.

"However, I have spoken with Mr. Henry Schrager, the owner of Haverford Court Hotel, and he has assured me that the bar and cocktail lounge will cater to a conservative clientele," Lorimer said.

"We don't like to see liquor licenses granted in the neighborhood, but we are sure Schrager will not have a crowd of beer-drinking, juke box-playing kids in his bar.

Missing Dinner Parties

"At the hearing, Schrager told me that the Haverford Court Hotel was missing out on large dinner parties because people avoid the hotel when they discover they can't get drinks.

"The gross income of the hotel is approximately $1,000 a month, and Schrager is not going to jeopardize his business by allowing a boisterous crowd in the cocktail lounge. Many of his residents are elderly and they wouldn't appreciate the noise," Lorimer said.

Schrager, who bought the hotel last November, plans to provide extra parking space in the rear to take care of extra traffic the bar may create. This week, he said he had no comment to make on the Liquor Board's decision.

MISS COLEMAN'S ESTATE IS VALUED AT $14,000

ever, a nine-and-a-half acre tract of land bounded by Levering Mill Rd. and Bryn Mawr Ave., Cynwyd, to be used for the education of poor and orphan children.

In addition to the land, the will provided 800 Pounds for the construction of a building on the property. When Jones died in 1812, at the age of 97, the building was erected by the trustees and Joshua Hoopes, a Friend, was put in charge of the school.

Some of the names of the original trustees are still well-known Township and Borough names . . . There is still a Roberts on the Board of Trustees today.

Schoolmaster Hoopes didn't stay for too long because a controversy developed over the "poor and orphaned children" for whom Jones was providing free education, and paying scholars who looked down their noses at their less fortunate cousins. The controversy was eventually solved by closing the doors of the school to paying students and allowing the non-paying students to remain.

The Academy offered a classical course and it was also a boarding school. Incidentally, the "free school of Montgomery," as it was called, paid higher wages in those days than any others here. At one time it paid $160 a year, and the Master was allowed to live on the top floor of the building, rent free.

The Academy is located on ground which is historical and well known from Revolutionary days. American troops marched by the school on their way to campgrounds near Merion Meeting, just five days before the massacre at Paoli, September 19, 1777.

Israel L. Irwin, last of the old schoolmasters, taught for 23 years until the Lower Merion Board of School Directors took over the building in 1914. At that time, the trustees leased the entire property to the Lower Merion District for 150 years at $50 a year. The only specification the trustees made was that the grounds must always be used for educational purposes and that the old building be preserved.

When the Bala-Cynwyd Junior High School was built in 1938-39, the old Academy School was rebuilt by the School Board at a cost of $31,822 18.

Mr. Dubois told me that Savery, Scheetz and Gilmour, the architects for the remodelling, did a wonderful job in preserving the original details of the building. For instance, during the remodelling it was discovered that the mantelpiece of the fireplace in the downstairs dining room had seven coats of paint on it. An unusual shade of green was the first coat, and it was copied exactly so now the woodwork throughout the house is that same shade of green.

The original wainscoating is still intact, with the boards following the horizontal angle of the steps going up the stairway. The banister is the original one, and the new floors match the original flooring even to the extent of having pegs instead of nails.

Even the hardware which had to be added to the building is copied exactly from what was still in the house.

Ninth grade girls use the building as a part of their home economic courses and they take care of the interior. Mothers of pupils, School Board Directors and other residents and visiting dignitaries are entertained at the Academy Building regularly.

Throughout the building, 18th Century furnishings, decorations and china have been used.

The basement has rooms and equipment for biological and botanical research, so the terms of the lease are fulfilled to the letter by the School District.

Present-day trustees are President Luther Parsons, of Knox Rd., Wynnewood; T. Williams Roberts, of St. Asaph's Rd., Bala, secretary-treasurer; George Grow, Bowman Ave., Merion; Charles Hansell, Lantwyn Lane, Narberth, and Edwin McDermon, Woodbine Ave., Penn Valley. These men have collected the rent for all these years and put it into a fund for the betterment of the Academy building.

Not so long ago, they bought a piano which is in the foyer of the first floor, and they have contributed sums from the fund to give prizes at the end of the year for the students who have achieved, scholastically, the most during the year.

They are intensely interested in the old school and are happy that the School District has preserved the historical and architectural features of one of the first public schools in the United States.

Guess that's about all for now . . . 'Bye now . . .

Boro Woman, 38, Arrested in Empty R. R. Car

Evicted From Home, Her Four Children Are Placed in Foster Homes

Five weeks after her four children were placed in foster homes, a 38-year-old Narberth woman was arrested for vagrancy and sentenced to 60 days in Montgomery County prison.

Winifred Pryor, a former resident of Woodbine Ave., was found last Friday sleeping in an empty box car on a siding near the Ardmore station of the Pennsylvania railroad. She was given a hearing before Lower Merion Township Justice of the Peace Franklin P. Kromer.

Evicted From Home

The four Pryor children were placed in custody of the Catholic Children's Bureau for Foster Home Placement February 14 after the family was evicted from their home.

Chief Probation Officer Peter J. Frascino said he took care of the Pryor children after receiving a report on the home conditions from Borough Justice of the Peace Otto Duer and several of the Pryor's neighbors.

Behind in Rent

Frascino said Mrs. Pryor and her husband, Patrick, were far behind in their rent and never seemed interested when the house was sold to a veteran.

He said the 13-year-old twin daughters, their 11-year-old brother and four-year-old sister, were placed in foster home after county officials decided it would be unwise to return them to their parents.

WEEKLY HEALTH REPORT

Lower Merion Township Health Officer Robert J. Thomas reported 28 new cases of chicken pox for the week ending March 21. Also reported were seven cases of mumps and one case of German measles.

Bala-Cynwyd Club Sponsors Ladies' Night

Mrs. Emma Fischer Gets Orchid as Oldest Lady Present

Mrs. EmmaF ischer, mother of Barney Fischer, of the Board of Directors of the Bala-Cynwyd Neighborhood Club, was given an orchid as "the oldest lady" at Tuesday night's Annual Ladies' Night of the club.

Mrs. Fischer, who is 84 years old, was presented with the orchid by Leroy Miller, WFIL radio star, who was Master of Ceremonies on "Evening in Hollywood" program.

Second oldest lady present was Mrs. Frank Daugherty, of Indiana, Pa., who is 82 years old. She is the mother-in-law of Edward J. Hanscom, Jr., and was presented with a flower holder.

Mrs. Fischer, who moved to Cynwyd in 1889, told Miller she attributed her longevity and good health to raising flowers and vegetables and taking walks on a golf course.

Prize for the funniest hat was awarded to Mrs. William Harsch, whose hat was bedecked with a boiled lobster. A hat with carrots and other vegetables, worn by Mrs. Henry Clayton, won the second prize.

Among the other prize winners were Mrs. J. B. Gemberling, mother of Mrs. Don Cochran, who won the door prize; Mrs. Eugene Zeiner, "the heaviest woman;" Mrs. L. J. Smith, whose wedding anniversary came nearest to Tuesday night (it was her 16th), and Mrs. W. G. Sanford, who won a prize for an Easter Basket hat.

Frank Burck was the lone male to be given a prize at the party. He won a large, and very black, cigar since his birthday was the nearest to Tuesday night.

Almost 300 members and guests, and their wives, attended the Annual Ladies' Night party.

Hawk Campaign In Twp. and Boro

Mammoth Organizational Meeting Planned

The anti-hawk campaign in Lower Merion and Narberth is going strong, Barney Fischer, Ardmore merchant, said Wednesday.

Fischer, who is an active organizer of the about-to-be-announced Bird Lovers' Association, said the group has held four informal meetings in the past few weeks and are busy with plans for a mammoth organizational meeting.

He said four prominent Lower Merion officials have agreed to serve as vice presidents of the association,b ut that the president had not been chosen yet.

It is still a secret just how many dead hawks have been turned in for the $10 bounty. Last Friday was to have been the deadline for hawk bounties, but a dead Cooper's or Sharp-shinned hawk is still worth $10. The hawk bounty is extended indefinitely.

An unofficial spokesman for the hawk-shooters said the bounty figures were not being made public because of the Delaware Valley Ornithological Society which is opposed to the active warfare.

Yester-Year In Narberth

When William S. Howard, of Durbin and Howard, first came to Narberth, more than 30 years ago, he conducted a drug-store on Haverford Avenue, as many old residents will remember.

One day a well-known local lady stopped in the store and said she had left home without her pocketbook. She asked Mr. Howard to lend her $5, which he was glad to do. A half-hour later she returned from her shopping tour to show Mr. Howard what she had bought, 2 hot-water bags, soaps, toilet articles, etc., all secured from Mr. Howard's competitor down the street with Mr. Howard's five dollars.

Bryn Mawr and Harvard to Hold Joint Concert

To Give First Public Performance of Fine's "Alleluia"

The first public performance of the Alleluia," of Irving Fine, contemporary composer, will be presented by the chorus of Bryn Mawr College at a concert with the Harvard University Glee Club Thursday, April 3, in Goodhart Hall.

The combined choruses will present Symphonie de Psaumes," by Stravinski, a rarely heard work, as well as In Ecclesiis," by the 17th century composer, Giovanni Gabrieli. This latter work will be accompanied by a brass ensemble comprised of members of the Philadelphia Orchestra.

In addition to the Alleluia" of Irving Fine the Bryn Mawr chorus will also present works by Bach, Mozart, W. Billings and Delaney, the latter work with words by Henry Vaughan.

The Harvard Glee Club will present the Credo" from the contemporary Gretchaninoff's Second Russian Liturgy, as well as works by Hassler, Nanino and Palestrina.

The Bryn Mawr chorus is under the direction of Mrs. Lorna Cooke de Varon, Harvard's Glee Club under the direction of G. Wallace Woodworth.

MBS Radio Star Models Latest in Ski Fashions

As warm and glowing as a log fire is this costume by Judy Blake, an actress who finds time from her radio duties for winter-into-spring skiing. Her blue poplin jacket, designed by Picard of Sun Valley, has raglan sleeves and rows of red and white braid on the front.

The artist, who is heard on MBS-WIP Tuesdays in the "Adventures of the Falcon," says beige waterproof ski-pants adds practical flattery to her ensemble, as does the "Sonja Henie" cap, which is lined with white wool flaps for turning down when needed.

Capital Lobbyists Hit By Brookline Pastor

Lobbyists in Washington were likened to Biblical characters from the Book of Hosea by the Rev. Aaron Manderbach, of Brookline, during a speech he made at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Chester Pike Kiwanis Club.

Speaking at Howard Johnson's restaurant, Glenolden, Mr. Manderbach, pastor of the Saint Faith's Church and a former member of the club, declared:

"Then and now, there are many who lobby for themselves alone, adopting the attitude of what can I get out of it?"

CARE Package Display Closes This Week End

During the past week a display of two CARE packages at Strawbridge and Clothier's store, Suburban Square, has given shoppers an opportunity to see the contents of the packages and to learn about Cooperative for American Remittances to Europe, Inc.

According to representatives of the Cynwyd, Narberth, Ardmore and Bryn Mawr Women's Clubs who have been present at the display to give out information, the public has many misconceptions about CARE.

CARE has extended its services to include a third package in addition to the food and blanket packages which have been available for shipment to Europe up to this time.

The new package contains enough 100% woolen cloth to make a suit for an adult, as well as heavy cotton material for lining. It also contains thread, buttons, needles and a thimble. Like the other two CARE packages, the new woolen one costs $10 with ration-free, tax-free delivery guaranteed to 13 different countries of Europe.

Not a Relief Group

CARE, a person to person service organization, does not collect money for general relief, but sells packages at low cost, with delivery to a specified address guaranteed.

Since it is a non-profit organization, the $10 cost, which includes shipping, is less than the cost of the same articles bought at retail and shipped by an individual. Any money that is left over from costs and liabilities is used by CARE to finance further operations.

Hungary and Rumania are now on the list of countries serviced by CARE; and, through special arrangement with Russia, people living in the Russian zone in Berlin can receive packages.

Representatives at the CARE booth here have lists of names of needy people in most countries of Europe. These names were collected through individual contact since giving out names is not a CARE service. Very often recipients of packages include in letters of thanks the name of a friend whose condition is desperate. Through this channel, more needy cases have been collected than the original donors could supply.

Names Are Available

These are the names available at the booth for those who wish to send a package, but have no friend or relative in great need.

The CARE display will remain at Strawbridge and Clothier's store this week-end and then will move to John H. Ansler's store, 130 E. Lancaster Ave., Wayne.

Learn to Operate New Phone System

Members of the office volunteer group of the Federation of Churches met with their chairman, Mrs. Earl Reifsnyder, last Wednesday, at the federation headquarters, 18 Simpson Road, Ardmore, to learn to operate the new telephone system which has recently been installed.

Mrs. Thomas Huff, new general chairman of Volunteers, and Robert Myers, who is in charge of the Family Service work of the agency, also met with the group.

The switchboard which the Volunteers used to operate has been replaced by a push button system which speeds up the handling of calls. Plans were laid for members of the volunteer group to take charge of telephone calls whenever there is not a regular member of the staff on duty.

Optimists Hear Television Aide

Ardmore Group Meets Tuesday in Llanerch

Eugene F. X. Mozier, of the R. C. A. Television Sales Department, spoke at the luncheon meeting of the Ardmore Optimist Club Tuesday at the Llanerch Country Club.

"Television was inaugurated commercially in December, 1946," Mozier told the meeting. "At the time, Philadelphia was one of the four cities in the United States to have a transmission station."

He said that eight cities had stations now, and prophesied that by the end of the year at least 27 cities would install stations.

"One difficulty in transmitting television," he said, "is that the beams travel in straight lines, whereas for the radio, beams follow the curvature of the earth. Thus, the limit of the transmission station is 30 to 40 miles."

AVC at Temple Unit Seeks Summer School

A resolution favoring a summer school for Temple University's Havertown unit has been adopted by the American Veterans Committe.

The chapter has also voted in favor of peacetime military conscription and advocated that a laboratory for accounting students of the unit be established.

John Ellison has been appointed chairman of a newly formed school affairs committee to act as liaison between the Havertown A. V. C. and the University.

Ardmore Man Hurt In Llanerch Accident

William Touchton, 24, of 45 Chatham Rd., Ardmore, was injured last Friday by an automobile at West Chester Pike and Township Line, Llanerch, as he alighted from an Ardmore-bound trolley.

The motorist, Mrs. Margaret W. Hutton, of West Chester, took Touchton to Delaware County Hospital, where he was treated for cuts and bruises.

Do not think that nothing is happening because you do not see yourself grow or hear the whirr of the machinery. All great things grow noiselessly.—Drummond.

LESSON-SERMON LISTED

"Reality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, March 30. The Golden Text is "Thou, O Lord, shalt endure forever, and Thy remembrance unto all generations" (Psalms 102:12).

Among the Bible citations comprising the Lesson-Sermon is the following: "I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor anything taken from it: and God doeth it, that men should fear before Him. That which hath been is now; and that which is to be hath already been; and God requireth that which is past" (Esslesiastes 3:14,15),

Brookline Five Battles Vets On Friday Night

MAIN LINE LEAGUE RIVALS MEET AT LOWER MERION; BROOKS WIN, 59 TO 41

By HARRY ELLSWORTH

Rated a pre-game underdog, Brookline's torrid basketeers trounced the Lower Merion Veterans, 59-41, in the first game of the best of seven Main Line League championship series at Haverford Junior High School Monday night.

The two clubs will go at it again in the second game Friday night at Lower Merion High School. The third game has been listed for Wednesday night, April 2, also on the Downs' Gym floor

After a nip and tuck first quarter, Lower Merion jumped into a 15-14 lead when George Paine potted a long set shot. At this juncture, however, the bottom dropped out for the Vets as Brookline poured in field goal after field goal to lead by 27-15. The Vets whittled this down to 28-21 at the half.

From there on in, the game was "no contest." Brookline, with Charlie Gunther scoring in close and Bill Thomas from outside, poured it on the Vets. Lower Merion, gradually going from bad to worse, couldn't buy a basket as they displayed their poorest ball of the year.

Gunther notched 19 points to top the winners' scoring, with Thomas netting 13, and Nick D'Amora, an old Lower Merionite himself, scoring 12. Bill Zeiss, alone with Gunther, completely dominated the rebounds.

Brookline, an underdog in this first game, will enter the second contest on Friday night a definite favorite. Big and fast, they presented a fast passing outfit that the Vets proved unable to halt.

In direct contrast to the Vets' subpar play of Monday night was their superb basketball exhibition in trouncing Narberth, 59-45, on Friday, to qualify for the championship playoffs

Starting slowly, the Vets were behind by a 27-26 halftime count, but pulled away from Narberth in the second half to win going away.

Billy Koehler and Don Evans, instrumental in rebounding, led the Aces' scoring with 18 and 13 points, respectively. George Davidson and Bob Bailey, the two lads who virtually kept Narberth in the playoffs by their fine work, scored 13 points apiece for the Torchianamen.

Narberth's Davidson Leads M. L. League All-Star Team

George Davidson, Narberth's talented pivot man, carried off the bulk o fthe individual honors in the Main Line League this year.

Besides setting a new league scoring record of 441 points, the big Boroughite was voted the Most Valuable Player in the Main Line League for 1946-47, and was the only unanimous choice on the All-League quintet, amassing 40 points. The team is selected by a vote of the eight managers.

Named with Davidson on the Main Line League All-League team were Jim Coughlin, of Norristown; Hank Belber, Lower Merion Veterans; Bobby Keehn, Coatesville, and Bill Zeiss, Brookline.

Don Markward, Coatesville ace who was injured early in January and forced out of action for the remainder of the year, was awarded an honorable mention first team selection Markward tied with Zeiss for fifth slot on the team, but, because he had played only part of the season, it was decided to give Zeiss the nod.

Herb Good, who took a mediocre Brookline team and turned it into a championship contender, was named the outstanding manager of the year, with Jiggs Torchiana, of Narberth, nosing out Lower Merion's Stan Thomas for the runnerup spot.

Little Harry Kelleher, Narberth guard, gained the Best Defensive Player Award, thus succeeding another Narberthite, Harry Middleton. Kelleher was closely followed by Joe Proksa, of Coatesville.

Hauer Tallies 350 Points for Legion Crown

Charlie Hauer, of Collingdale, captured the Eastern Delaware County American Legion League basketball scoring title by rolling up 350 points in 18 games, according to standings released yesterday by Joseph Petron.

Hauer hung up 150 field goals and 50 fouls. He twice scored 30 points in single games, and shared a record 14 field goals in one game with Wright, of Clifton Heights.

Phipps, of Nunan-Slook, finished fourth in the scoring race with 226 points, posting 88 field goals and 50 foul tosses. In final team standings, Nunan-Slook averaged 51.1 points per game to trail Springfield (57.5) and Collingdale (55.5).

GRID TO DIAMOND

Bob Polidor, Villanova football star whose 109-yard touchdown run against Miami was voted the top football thrill of 1946, is an outfield candidate for the Wildcats' baseball team.

CATS CONVERTED 306

Accuracy at the foul line gave Villanova's basketball squad a season's total of 306 foul goals in 525 attempts.

Villanova Nine Plays Vermont

Chilly March breezes failed to halt Villanova College baseball drills as Coach Phil Weinert prepared for the opener with Vermont here on Friday.

Weinert, veteran major league hurler starting his second season at Villanova, cut his squad to 35 men this week. He will assign some of the remaining candidates to the junior varsity.

Weinert has returning his starting club which won 11 of 17 games in 1946. But faced with a heavy 24-game slate which includes a home meeting with the Phillies, Phil hopes to build up the Wildcats' reserve strength.

The Wildcats' hard-hitting outfield combination, rated by Weinert on par with any college trio in the country, is intact Captain Dan Casey, Albany, senior; Bill Smith, a .405 hitter from Haverford High, and Al Litwa, of Camden, are the regular outfielders.

CHOJNACKI MAINSTAY

Stan Chojnacki, who hurled six wins against a single loss in his first season of college baseball, is expected to be a mound mainstay for Coach Phil Weinert's Villanova team this spring.

Ford Tossers Play 2d Game At Northeast

Haverford High baseballers, following Thursday's opener at Episcopal Academy, will play at Northeast High next Monday afternoon. It will be the Fords' final workout prior to the Suburban Section One inaugural at Norristown High April 10.

Only two regulars were available to Coach Allie Cornog as the Haverford nine opposed Episcopal in their traditionally early opener. The holovers were Skippy Muir, hard-hitting catcher, and Outfielder Don Griffith Huber Smith, third string pitcher last season, and Bud Arnold, understudy to Muir behind the bat, also were on hand.

Smith was slated to start against the Churchmen, but at least two of five other mound aspirants were ready for action. They included Joe Sweeney, Joe Staats, late of Southern High; Lew Rhiver, Tom DiFrancesco and Tom Jones. DiFrancesco and Rhiver are left-handers.

Behind Muir at catcher were Reid Ritchie and Russ Pinkerton. Arnold was transferred to first base, with Ed Regester and Frank Hemphill held in reserve there.

At second base, Jim Hazel held forth with Dick Spencer, who also takes a turn on the mound, as understudy. Bill Cordes and Paul Presede were slated to alternate at shortstop. Howard Pyott and Ray Morris were scheduled to divide third base duties.

Among the outfielders were Vince Giacomucci, Harold Butler, Don Griffith, Walt Haigh, Roy Gelpke and Don Higgins.

WARIORS' POE FULKS, MUSI NEAR TITLES

The Philadelphia Warriors most likely will wind up with two individual champions in their first season in the Basketball Association of America.

Joe Fulks, the lean Kentuckian, has sewed up the scoring title with 1322 points in 57 games, and there is an excellent possibility Angelo Musi, mite captain of the Warriors, may wind up with the foul shooting crown. Musi has missed but 18 free throws since the season opened last November Musi was awarded 118 free throws and converted an even 100 valuable points for the Warriors.

PROLIFIC COURTMEN

Villanova's 1946-47 basketball team set more college scoring marks than any other team in Wildcat history. The quintet scored 1436 points in 24 games, an average of 59.8 points per game.

JOE LORD HONORED

Joe Lord, Villanova basketball captain and All-Pennsylvania forward choice, was a unanimous choice on the all-opponent teams selected by Rhode Island State and Loyola College of Baltimore players.

GALENTO TO REFEREE IN ARENA MAT SHOW

An all-star wrestling show will surround the return windup clash between Primo Carnera and Ernie Dusek, with Two-Ton Tony Galento refereeing, this Friday night at the Arena.

Promoters Eddie Gottlieb and Jules Aronson secired the services of Galento, ex-heavyweight boxing contender from Orange, N. J., to officiate this return meeting, after the heated battle of last week when Ernie was disqualified for attempting to subdue Carnera with an assortment of rough tactics.

AUTO RACING OPENS IN TRENTON APRIL 13

NARBERTH SCHOOL NOTES

On March 14, Frederick D. Rochester, talented 12-year-old pianist, performed in the assembly program at Narberth Public School. Frederick is in seventh grade in the Shaw Junior High School in Philadelphia.

The compositions this young musician played were "Polanaise Militaire," by Chopin; "Rondo Caprisioso," by Mendelssohn; "Juba Dance," by R. Nathaniel Dett; and "Octave Intermezzo," by Leschetizky. As encores he played "One World," his own composition which was a poem set to music, and "Etude," by Chopin.

Between his pieces, five seventh grade pupils gave short biographies of famous composers. They were: Donald Annett, Shubert; Nan Simons, Bach; Richard Segermark, Handel; Patsy McEnanem, Beethoven, and Constance Boney, Stephen Foster.

Some recent assemblies at N P.S. were: a quiz program entitled "Information Please," sponsored by Mrs. C. R. Brenner, and a Music Club's Concert, sponsored by Miss F. Fricke.
